THE FUTURE SET IN STONE

Stone, in its many forms, has been used as a building material and an architectural design element for centuries. Today, we use travertine tiles for wall and floor applications and natural stone or stone composites for kitchen benches tops, splash backs, vanity tops, fireplace surrounds, staircases and even to make furniture.

At Bravvo, we know all there is to know about stone and we make our many years of experience and knowledge available to a wide range of customers along with some of the finest stone products the world has to offer.

With proper care and maintenance your natural stone and tiles can look clean and elegant for years. All stone surfaces require regular sealing and polishing but general purpose cleaners that contain ammonia, lemon, vinegar or other acids may remove the sealer and damage the surface beneath. Brawo can recommend and supply the ideal cleaner for your particular needs.
